

Media release

7 September 2007

Future Fund builds investment team

The Future Fund today announced the appointment of Tony Day as Head of Strategy.

Tony joins from QIC where his most recent role has been as Chief Strategist. Prior to his 12 years at QIC Tony held consulting and actuarial roles with Towers Perrin and AMP.

David Neal, Chief Investment Officer of the Future Fund, noted that the appointment was an important step in building the Fund's investment capability.

"I am very pleased to welcome Tony to the team and excited at the prospect of working with him to develop our strategic capabilities.

"We are building a team of investment professionals who can help us achieve our ambition of becoming a global centre of excellence in institutional investing. We're focused on bringing together diverse skills to help generate innovation and insight across our portfolio," said Mr Neal.

Tony will start with the Future Fund at the end of October.

Ends

For more information contact:

Will Hetherton

Head of Communications

Future Fund

03 8656 6400

0439 016 678